A communication from Helena, Montana, has just reached us. It has been a long time en route, and is now too old for publication.

Rev. E. A. Penick will preach at Ascension Church to-morrow morning and night, and regularly thereafter, having accepted the rectorate of that Church.

The advertisement of J. M. Stephens appears in this issue of the ROUNDABOUT. For the benefit of those who don't know, we will say that for sweet, tender, juicy, fresh meat, Stephens' is the place.

The following has been handed to us, with the information that the original bill is in the hands of the Chairman of the House Judiciary Committee. The people of Frankfort are interested in this matter, and should be heard on the subject before the Legislature takes any action on it: AN ACT to amend the Charter of the City of Frankfort.

Be it enacted by the General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Kentucky

§ 1 That the next election for City Attorney in the city of Frankfort shall be held at the same time that the Police Judge of said city is to be elected, and that all subsequent elections for said City Attorney shall be held at the same time that the Police Judge of said city is to be elected.

§ 2. All acts in conflict herewith are hereby repealed.

§ 3 This act shall take effect from its passage

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

GLAUCHE BUCKLEY.

GEO. A. LEWIS.

BUCKLEY & LEWIS.

Editors and Publishers.

FRANKFORT, APRIL 3, 1880.

County court next Monday.

Spring gardening and croquet parties are fashionable now.

The City Council meets in regular session next Tuesday night.

Query—What do our Jewish friends think of a paper that makes them the descendants of "Runaway Slaves?"

The City Council chamber has been repainted, re-papered, newly carpeted, and it is now one of the most attractive rooms to be found in Frankfort.

Mr. John W. Payne will, in a few days, begin the erection of a brick cottage on the lot which he recently purchased from Mr. M. E. Jett, on Cross street, South Frankfort.

A young lady in South Frankfort plays the game of Logomachy, in her dreams, till the oil in the lamp is consumed and the embers in the grate grow cold. The game of "15" don't bother her.

The meeting of the Pierian Club on Tuesday night, at the residence of Mr. Alex. Robertson, Belle Point, was a very pleasant affair. The programme was interesting and well rendered.

A bill passed the House of Representatives Tuesday night, authorizing the Board of School Trustees of Frankfort to organize a public school for colored children. This is a move in the right direction.

At a meeting of the Assembly Ball Club, held Wednesday evening, it was decided to give another of their delightful hops at the Capital Hotel next Friday night, 9th inst. This will certainly be the last of the season.

The Academy Minstrels are in rehearsal for one of their matchless performances in this city at an early day. No amateur troupe in the country excels this, and our people will give them a full house whenever they appear before the footlights.

One of our Bridgeport subscribers assures us that his ROUNDABOUT is read by no less than fifteen families. If our life is kindly spared till summer, we will call on and give some of these families an opportunity to subscribe for the ROUNDABOUT.

Some young ladies of this city sent a very fine large sponge cake to some of the K. M. I. boys on Thursday. The soldier boys tried to cut it, but it wouldn't cut worth a cent—it was made of cotton, covered on the outside with dough and nicely baked.

Mr. M. E. Jett left his horse and buggy standing in Main street Tuesday morning and went into a store. The horse concluded to go to the stable and struck into a brisk gallop, causing considerable excitement on the streets through which he passed. He was caught at the south end of the wooden bridge and brought back, nothing being damaged by his flight.

The peach trees are in bloom and the itinerant organ grinder is in town.

A Free Bridge.

The City Council was called in extra session Thursday night to hear a proposition from the stockholders of the Frankfort Bridge Company in reference to the sale of their bridge to the city of Frankfort, to be converted into a free bridge.

Gen. D. W. Lindsey appeared as spokesman for the committee, consisting of E. L. Samuel, J. M. Todd, and Jas. G. Dudley, and offered the entire stock of the F. B. Co., franchises, approaches, toll-house, and real estate for the sum of $20,000. They agreed to take bonds of the city of Frankfort in payment, said bonds to be redeemable in twenty years and to bear interest at the rate of six per cent. per annum. But the stockholders reserve for themselves such tolls as may accumulate between now and the date of the transfer of the property to the city.

Councilman Bryan was called to the chair, and Mayor Major made a speech in advocacy of a free bridge, stating that he believed it was right and proper to purchase the bridge of the F. B. Co., if they could agree on terms, rather than to erect a new bridge, and gave several good, logical reasons for this belief. He stated that the stockholders of the F. B. Co. had rights as citizens and tax-payers of Frankfort, which the members of the City Council, as representatives of the people, had no right to ignore, and he suggested the appointment of a committee by the Council to inquire into and ascertain the real worth of the bridge, and to confer with the committee from the stockholders of the F. B. Co. to see if they could agree on the price to be paid for the bridge.

Col. D. Howard Smith addressed the Council, urging the purchase of the old bridge.

There seemed to be general good feeling about the matter among all parties, and a resolution on the part of the members of the City Council to have a free bridge just as soon as possible—the old bridge if they can get it, a new one if it must be built.

LATER.—The Council met again last night to hear the report of the committee in reference to the bridge. The committee reported that in their opinion the bridge was worth $12,000, and recommended that that sum be offered to the F. B. Co. for their property. Gen. Lindsey then proposed, for the committee from the F. B. Co., that the City Council select one fair, disinterested man, and the F. B. Co. select another, and these two to ascertain the worth of the bridge and report to the Council and the F. B. Co. Both the Council and F. B. Co. bind themselves to close the trade for the bridge property at any sum the two referees may designate between $12,000 and $20,000. But if these two referees cannot agree as to the worth of the bridge, then they are to call in a third fair, disinterested man, and the price fixed by any two of these three shall be final.

The committee from the F. B. Co. acceded to every proposition made by the Council, showing a disposition to do any reasonable thing in order to effect the sale of the bridge to the city. The sale is virtually closed, and Frankfort is to own the wooden bridge, and the wooden bridge is to be FREE TO ALL.

The open meeting of the Good Templars Thursday night was largely attended, and was a very pleasant affair. Speeches were made by Mr. D. H. Goyen, of North Fork, Elder George Darsie, Hon. R. M. Byar, Representative from Bracken county, and Mr. Ben Deering. After the public meeting, a lodge meeting was held, and three additions were made to the membership of the lodge.

Officer C. W. Merchant arrested Henry Lucas, colored, on Tuesday night, at the colored Methodist Church, on a warrant charging him with disorderly conduct, and locked him up in the work-house. On searching him, a large horse pistol, a bowie knife, and a "jimmy" were found concealed about his person, and on Wednesday he was tried in the Police Court and fined thirty dollars and costs for carrying concealed weapons. Failing to pay or replevy the fine, he will be compelled to work eighty days for the city, after which he will be tried for the penitentiary on a charge of having in his possession burglars' tools.

Mr. Mandeville, proprietor of the Climax Shaving Emporium on St. Clair street, near Broadway, Dick Wigdon, proprietor of the barber shop on Main street opposite the post-office, and Henry Samuel, proprietor of the barber shop on St. Clair street, near Broadway, say it is not fair that they should be compelled to keep their shops closed on Sunday and two other barber shops in the city be allowed to continue their trade on that day, hid from the public gaze by having newspapers put before their windows and doors. The attention of the police is called to this matter, and in justice to the men who desire to observe the Sunday Law, they should report the offenders to the Judge of the Police Court for punishment.

"Runaway Jewish Slaves."

Editor Roundabout:

The above is the term applied by the Yeoman, to the people whom God says he was leading, by his own arm and power, from their subjection to their foes, into the land of promise.

It is a fact, as true as fearful, that when men begin to throw off the restraints of God's commands, thereby to gratify their own passions and propensities, that, step by step, they go into the most terrible and fearful blasphemies. In the effort to do away with the command of God in regard to the Sabbath, by a continued series of tirades against its observance, as "fanatical," "superstitious," &c., the Yeoman has at last uttered, in the article from which this heading is taken, a sentence blasphemous in its character, and which is the boldest infidelity. It will not do for the editor, or whoever put that sentence into the paper, to say that it is the language of another, for appended to it is the Yeoman's approval, as being the utterance of "good authority."

The same "good authority" is made to say that the "primary meaning of Sabbath is seventh." The Yeoman had better be careful how it adopts the statements of "penny-alieners" in second or third rate Encyclopedias, lest it should thereby display its own unwelcome ignorance. The Hebrew for Sabbath is "Shabbath," a day of rest, from "Shabbath," the primary meaning of which is "to cease to do," hence rest. The Yeoman's interpretation would make the all-wise God use such nonsense as this (in the Decalogue): "The seventh is the seventh of the Lord thy God."

The true interpretation makes the Word of God constitute this beautiful sentence: "The seventh is the REST-DAY of the Lord thy God." But enough. This last utterance of the "Yeoman" is simply in keeping with all the rest of the articles it has contained upon this subject, a mixture of pitiable ignorance, borrowed at that, and still more pitiable and gross infidelity.

Milton Smith was arrested Monday evening and taken to Louisville Tuesday morning and taken to Sheriff M. H. P. Williams to answer to a charge of forgery.

A Desperate Negro.

About two o'clock Tuesday afternoon Mr. Robt. W. Lawler, the jailer, asked Officers Rupe, Jeffers and Goin to go into the jail and iron Luther Wilson, the colored ex-convict who was arrested last week by Officer Brown and Rupe, charged with breaking into the baggage room at the depot.

Wilson had lifted the cell door off of its hinges and carried it against the front entrance door of the jail. He had broken a chair to pieces and was in a position to do a great amount of damage; and as he had been behaving so badly that Mr. Lawler could do nothing with him it became necessary to put shackles on him.

On entering the jail, the officers found that Wilson was in a dark cell at the end of the hall and Mr. Rupe commanded him to come out and give himself up. This he positively refused to do, and, being armed with a heavy chair round, he declared his intention of killing the first man who entered.

Officer Rupe tried every means to get Wilson out, and failing, he tried to peer into the dark cell to ascertain the position of the negro, when Wilson threw a brick bat at and struck Officer Rupe square in the forehead. He started to fall but was caught by Mr. Phil Goin. Wilson threw another bat which passed harmlessly over the head of Mr. Goin. Mr. Rupe then fired four or five shots into the dark cell, and Mr. Goin fired twice, but Wilson was hanging the wall closely, in the corner near the door, and thus escaped injury.

Officer Rupe was then carried to the office of Drs. Rodman & Davall, where his wound was dressed, after which he was carried home. His wound was a very serious one, though fortunately, his skull was not fractured.

Marshal Todd and Messrs. Goin and Jeffers went back to the jail and found Wilson willing to submit to having iron put on him.

Luther Wilson is not over 25 years old, but has already served three terms in the penitentiary. He says he is satisfied with his work now—that he "cleaned out six men in Eminence, and made one of the Frankfort police squeal." He stole a barrel of whisky in Eminence, and since his incarceration in our county jail he has been called for by the Marshal of that town. It is said that there are charges against him in Louisville also.

The city of Frankfort ought to own the county bridge and make it free to the world.

Mr. Stephen Fuhs, who was seriously stabbed in the shoulder some two months ago, made his appearance, for the first time since, on the streets this week. It will be remembered that the knife blade penetrated to the marrow of the bone and broke off, and the surgeon was obliged to extract it by chiseling the bone away from it, and, in consequence, Mr. Fuhs will always have a stiff shoulder joint, so that he will have no use of it whatever.

Republican Meeting.

The Republicans of Franklin county are requested to meet at the court house, in the city of Frankfort, on Monday, April 5th, at 2 1/2 o'clock, P. M., 1880, for the purpose of appointing delegates to the State Convention which assembles in Louisville on Wednesday, April 14th, 1880.

TERMS.

The Weekly Roundabout is published every Saturday, at one dollar per annum, invariably in advance.

Six months, 50 cents; three months, 25 cents. Money may be sent by post-office money order, or registered letter at our risk.

Notices of Marriages, Births, and Deaths inserted free of charge. Obituary notices will be charged for at our regular advertising rates.

If your ROUNDABOUT is marked on the first page with a red X it indicates that your subscription has expired and must be renewed before you receive another paper.

Foresters meet next Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock.

If Jere Lee asks you for a "light," give him a match.

Spring poetry for sale at this office in any quantity to suit purchasers.

The State House yard has been cleaned off this week, and it looks better.

The subscription list of the ROUNDABOUT is growing beautifully larger day by day.

Persons who contemplate going to the Kentucky Press Association must prepare to leave here on Monday, the second day of June.

Attention Royal Templars.—You are requested to meet in your Council Chamber next Thursday evening promptly at eight o'clock.

The Christian Temperance Union holds its regular weekly meeting of the court-house-to-night. You are cordially invited to be present.

A nice new stone pavement is being laid on Second street, South Frankfort, from Logan street to the entrance of J. G. Dudley & Bro.'s saw-mill.

A gentleman living in this county was sitting with his family, one night last week, reading his paper, and read aloud a paragraph to the effect that the Czar of Russia received $25,000 a day as his salary, when his little daughter said, "Papa, why don't you get into that business?"

When any public officer attempts to intimidate the editor of a newspaper, and deter him from doing what he conceives to be his duty, by threats of personal violence, said public officer thereby places himself in an attitude to merit and receive the contempt of all right-minded, respectable people. We don't intend to be deterred from criticizing the official acts of any public officer, whenever we think it necessary, by threats of personal violence from any man.

The town trustees of Harrodsburg found that town five thousand dollars in debt when they went into office three years ago. They have paid off the debt without increasing the rate of taxation, and have conducted the affairs of the town in such an economical manner, that one year during their administration no tax was assessed or collected. The Observer, a Democratic newspaper of that place, wants the same trustees re-elected, and thinks that politics should cut no figure in this local election.

A stranger was heard to say on the street one day this week that the Meriwether hotel is the best in the State.

The farmers of Franklin and adjoining counties would do well to call on J. H. Bowen & Co., of this city, when they want any agricultural implements or field seeds. This firm is composed of young men who stand well in this community, and they are enterprising and reliable. They keep all the standard reapers and mowers, plows, wagons, threshing machines, &c., and a complete stock of field seeds which they sell at popular prices. Read their advertisement in another column of this paper.

We desire to state that the edition of the Encyclopedia Britannica now being sold here, is one of the two forms in which the English edition is issued. The trade and subscription forms of the work differ only in the weight of the paper and width of margin. The subscription form is of a more convenient size and $4 cheaper. It seems that the absence of an international copyright law has resulted in the work's being reprinted in America, and the English publishers have been compelled to reduce the price of each volume $4, in order to compete. The encomiums bestowed upon this work must flatter the Edinburgh firm.

As 'Squire Robt. C. McKee, who lived in the Farmdale neighborhood, was walking to town Monday morning, he was overtaken near Cedar Run bridge by Mr. B. E. Rodgers, who was on horseback, and was asked by the latter to ride his horse and let him, Mr. Rodgers, walk, he being younger and better able to walk than the former. Mr. Rodgers dismounted and 'Squire McKee got on the horse and rode slowly along talking to Mr. Rodgers, when they were overtaken by some wagons. 'Squire McKee proposed to ride to town in one of the wagons and let Mr. Rodgers ride his horse, and, with that view, hailed the driver of one of the wagons and asked to be allowed to ride to town. Just then the horse he was riding became frightened, probably at the noise the wagons made, and started off at a brisk trot, soon beginning to run, and ran about half a mile, when the rider either fell or was thrown from the horse, and was dragged fifteen or twenty feet before his foot was loosed from the stirrup. He was taken at once to Cedar Run distillery in an unconscious condition, and medical aid was summoned from the city as quickly as possible. He was afterwards taken to the toll-house on the Lawrenceburg pike, where he received every attention, but consciousness never fully returned to him, and on Tuesday morning, at four o'clock, he breathed his last.

'Squire Robt. C. McKee was an old resident of this county, and was at one time in very affluent circumstances. He was the editor and publisher of a newspaper in this city a number of years ago, which paper was an earnest advocate of the present State Constitution. He was a lawyer by profession, and is said to have been a successful practitioner in his young manhood. He acquired a State reputation in 1871 by opposing Hon. J. W. Tate in the race for the office of State Treasurer.

He leaves a wife and several children to mourn his untimely death, together with a large circle of friends. His remains were interred in the family burial grounds, near Farmdale.

WEEKLY ROUNDABOUT.

Plain Language from Truthful James.

BY BRET HARTE.

Which I wish to remark—
And my language is plain—
That for ways that are dark
And for tricks that are vain,
The heathen Chinese is peculiar;
Which the same I would rise to explain.

Ah Sin was his name,
And I shall not deny
In regard to the same
What that name might imply,
But his smile it was pensive and child-like,
As I frequent remarked to Bill Nye.

It was August the third;
And quite soft were the skies;
Which it might be inferred
That Ah Sin was likewise.
Yet he played it that day upon William
And me in a way I despise.

Which we had a small game
And Ah Sin took a hand;
It was euche—the same
He did not understand;
But he smiled as he sat by the table
With the smile that was child-like and bland.

Yet the cards they were stocked
In a way that I grieve;
And my feelings were shocked
At the state of Nye's sleeve,
Which was stuffed full of aces and bowers,
And the same with intent to deceive.

But the hands that were played
By that heathen Chinese,
And the points that were made
Were quite frightful to see—
Till at last he put down a right bower
Which the same Nye had dealt unto me.

Then I looked up at Nye,
And he gazed upon me;
Then he rose with a sigh
And said, "Can this be?
We are ruined by Chinese cheap labor."
And he went for that heathen Chinese.

In the scene that ensued
I did not take a hand;
But the floor it was strewed
Like the leaves on the strand,
With the cards that Ah Sin had been hiding
In the game "he did not understand."

In his sleeves, which were long,
He had twenty-four packs—
Which is coming it strong
Yet I state but the facts—
And we found on his nails, which were taper,
What is frequent in tapers—that's wax.

Which is why I remark,
And my language is plain,
That for ways that are dark,
And for tricks that are vain
The heathen Chinese is peculiar—
Which the same I am free to maintain.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church will give a parlor concert at the residence of Mrs. Philip Swigert, next Monday evening, 5th inst. The programme is very fine, and the occasion will be most enjoyable. Admission, twenty-five cents.

At the meeting of the stockholders of the Kentucky Industrial Association this afternoon, steps will be taken to consolidate the Anderson, Franklin, and Salvisa Agricultural and Mechanical Association with the Kentucky Industrial Association. If the effort is successfully carried out, it will result in benefit to the associations of both Lawrenceburg and Frankfort. There are improvements on the Frankfort grounds that have cost the Association over $6,000, and by adding the territory of Anderson county to our fair it will make it a success grander than the incorporators ever dreamed of. This consolidation should be made by all means, if our neighbors of Anderson county will accept fair terms.

A communication from Cropper's Depot, Shelby county, yesterday, brings the information that a boiler explosion took place, on Thursday, at the saw-mill of Mr. S. L. Sanders, about four miles from Cropper's, tearing the machinery all to pieces. The boiler was thrown a distance of one hundred yards, the smoke-stack was lodged in the top of a tall oak tree near by, and the entire machinery was totally wrecked. Mr. Sanders and his fireman, Mr. Ellis, were sitting just behind the boiler, but fortunately escaped uninjured.

Belle Point.

Fishing parties will soon be in order.
Benson bridge is to be repaired at once.
Fishing has been pretty good in Benson this week.

Miss Lucy Hardy is visiting friends in Covington this week.

The boys are talking about organizing a professional base ball club.

Frank has taken Horace Greely's advice, and goes West every Sunday evening.

The Champion Saw-mill is cutting and shipping large quantities of lumber daily.

Eight car loads of lumber were shipped from the Champion saw-mill one day this week.

Mrs. Ambrose Hampton visited relatives in Woodford county, near Versailles, the first of the week.

Mr. McDaniel has been using white-wash to a good effect on his property, which adds a great deal to its appearance.

Mr. Nat. McDaniel and wife returned Tuesday from a visit of nearly two weeks to relatives in Montgomery county.

Miss Jennie Collins, a highly accomplished and beautiful young lady of Crawfordville, Ind., is visiting her cousin, Miss Florence Collins.

Col. S. V. Pence moved his household goods from Flat creek Tuesday. The steamer Dora, No. 2, will bring his saw-mill boat up Friday. The Colonel is now permanently located in Belle Point.

Mr. Lattimore Hitt, City Marshal of La Grange, and M. Patterson, City Marshal of Eminence, were up Tuesday looking for a negro charged with burglarizing a store in Oldham county. They found him in the jail at Frankfort. Lat. is making quite a reputation as a detective.

Mr. Jas. Arvin, the engineer at the Champion Saw-mill, has a liver-colored setter that is a very intelligent animal. He will get any article in the room and bring it to you by naming it. You can take anything from your pocket, hide it, and he'll find it. Will take your hat off, shut or open the door, sit in a chair, crawl, and a great many other things too numerous to mention, which he will do by speaking to him. He is only eight months old. Jimmie has been offered twenty-five dollars for him, but refused it.

The Pierian Club met at Mr. Geo. A. Roberton's Tuesday evening. There were present twenty-seven young ladies and five young men—including "our Judge." Where is Belle Point gallantry? Come, boys, don't let it occur that way again. The programme consisted in part of instrumental music by Misses Tharp, Dudley, Todd, and Jilison, which was exceedingly good. Master Eddie Went performed on the violin and Miss Lottie Smith played the accompaniment on the piano, which was very good. The vocal music by the Misses Todd was excellent. The oration by Master A. H. Crutcher, in behalf of the sufferers of Ireland, was delivered in a masterly style. The dialogue by Misses Hardy and Lewis was good, and last, but not least, the speech by Rev. Ben Deering on "Laughter," elicited rounds of applause from the audience. The girls are talking of organizing a laughing club soon.

A Card.

To the President and Directors of the Frankfort and Flat Creek Turnpike Road Company: We, a committee appointed by yourselves, to examine the receipts and disbursements of Wm. S. Dehoney, Secretary and Treasurer of said pike, from March 1st, 1879, to March 27th, 1880, beg leave to state, that we have made the examination as required and find his books and accounts are correct and agree with his receipts and disbursements, and that his vouchers are properly endorsed.

Council Proceedings.

CALLLED MEETING.

FRANKFORT, KY., April 1st, 1880.

Present—His Honor, the Mayor, Councilmen Bryan, Burns, Church, Luscher and Tobin.

Reading of the minutes of last meeting dispensed with.

His Honor, the Mayor, stated that the object of the meeting was to confer with a committee appointed by the stockholders of the Frankfort Bridge Company in regard to buying said bridge and converting the same into a free bridge.

Gen. D. W. Lindsey, on behalf of the stockholders, offered to sell said bridge, franchises, toll-house, and rights of way for the sum of $20,000, reserving the right to collect and apply the tolls received up to the day the transfer or sale is made.

Councilman Bryan in the chair.

His Honor, the Mayor, moved that a committee of three be appointed to confer with a similar committee on the part of the stockholders of the Bridge Company, consisting of J. M. Todd, E. L. Samuel, and J. G. Dudley, and to ascertain if they could arrive at some definite price, and procure such legislation as was necessary to amend the act now in force in regard to a free bridge, which was adopted.

Councilman Church moved that a committee of four be appointed to examine the condition of said bridge, and report to a called meeting April 21. Adopted.

The following committee was appointed—Councilmen Bryan, Tobin, Church, and Luscher.

And then the Board adjourned.
